

Privacy Policy

Website contact information updated: September 2026

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how Sorellon Limited ("Sorellon", "we", "us", or "our") collects, uses, stores, and protects personal information in the course of our business operations. We are committed to complying with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018. We act as the data controller in respect of the personal information described below. This policy explains our processing of personal data; it does not replace the lawful bases described below.

2. Data We Collect

We collect and process the following categories of personal data, as relevant to the relationship:

- Identity Data: full name, job title, employer, and contact preferences.
- Contact Data: business address, email, and telephone number.
- Transactional Data: records of orders, invoices, and payments.
- Technical Data: standard server request information, such as IP address and browser details, processed by our website host.
- Enquiry Data: details provided by email or in business correspondence, including your organisation, contact details, delivery information and product requirements.

We may collect this data directly from you, through our website, or from publicly available sources such as Companies House, government frameworks, or professional directories.

3. How We Use Personal Data

We process personal data only where there is a lawful basis under UK GDPR, including:

- Performance of a contract: to supply goods or services, manage deliveries, and process payments.
- Legal obligation: to maintain records, issue invoices, and comply with tax, audit, or regulatory duties.
- Legitimate interests: to operate, improve, and secure our business, including client relationship management, quality control, and fraud prevention.
- Consent: for optional marketing communications or where required by law.

We do not use automated decision-making that produces legal or similarly significant effects.

4. Disclosure and Data Sharing

We only share personal data where necessary and with appropriate safeguards. This may include:

- Service providers who perform functions on our behalf (IT support, logistics, payment processing and website hosting).
- Professional advisers such as auditors, accountants, or legal counsel.

- Regulatory bodies or law enforcement where required by law or to enforce our rights.

Where a service provider processes personal data on our behalf, applicable data protection and confidentiality requirements must be addressed in the arrangements with that provider. We do not sell or rent personal data.

5. International Transfers

Where data is transferred outside the United Kingdom (for example, to a cloud service provider or logistics partner), we ensure that adequate safeguards are in place, such as the UK Addendum to the EU Standard Contractual Clauses or equivalent mechanisms approved by the ICO.

6. Data Retention

We retain personal data only for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected, including any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. In practice, most business-to-business data is retained for up to six (6) years after the end of the contractual relationship, unless a longer period is required by law.

7. Data Security

We take proportionate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data from loss, misuse or unauthorised access, including limiting access to those who need it for the relevant business purpose.

8. Your Rights

Under UK data protection law, you have the following rights:

- Access: request a copy of the personal data we hold about you.
- Rectification: correct any inaccurate or incomplete data.
- Erasement: request deletion of personal data where legally permissible.
- Restriction: limit processing in certain circumstances.
- Data portability: receive your data in a structured, commonly used format.
- Objection: object to processing based on legitimate interests or direct marketing.

Requests should be made in writing to sales@sorellon.com or by post to our registered address below. We will respond within one month in accordance with statutory obligations.

9. Cookies and Website Analytics

Our website does not currently use advertising cookies or a third-party analytics script. Netlify may process standard server request data needed to host and secure the site. You may control cookies through your browser; disabling essential browser features may affect site functionality.

10. Updates to This Policy

We may amend this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect legal, technical, or business changes. The latest version will always be available at <https://sorellon.com/privacy> and will supersede previous versions.
